Awarded

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS.

"For extraordinary heroism in action at Warfusse Abancourt, Somme, France, Mar. 27 to Apr. 3, 1918. Captain Jones, with utter disregard for his own personal safety, courageously led his men during this period, repeatedly passing from trench to trench encouraging his men, while under enemy machine-gun and rifle fire. On Mar. 30, 1918, when all other officers of his company became casualties he repeatedly exposed himself to enemy fire while going from the front line trench to the strong point, about 100 yards in front, in order to keep the machine guns in action, and directing the reconstruction of the trenches after the enemy bombardment had partially destroyed them. This splendid gallantry and leadership displayed by Captain Jones, and his utter disregard for his own personal safety, was a great inspiration to the men of his command."

Service Medal: Victory Medal with four battle clasps.

Awarded posthumously

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS.

"For extraordinary heroism in action in the Toul sector, France, May 26, 1918. The artillery of the 26th Division desiring its batteries to be adjusted upon objectives in front of the division, Captain Saunders volunteered to make the attempt although the weather was most unfavorable to flying. After flying two hours amid heavy anti-aircraft fire and having adjusted the fire of three batteries his plane was hit and disabled. Returning to his airdrome he secured another plane and returned to the enemy line to complete his mission. After another hour in the air he was again forced, on account of motor trouble, to return to the airdrome. Obtaining a third plane he again returned to the lines, the weather conditions forcing him to proceed for a considerable distance behind the enemy lines and at low altitude. Flying thus for an hour his plane was hit by anti-aircraft fire and badly damaged. With one control shot away and his propeller likewise injured, he still continued to adjust, always at low altitude and under constant enemy fire, until his mission was successfully accomplished. The heroic conduct of Captain Saunders served as a splendid example of soldierly devotion to duty to the men of his squadron."

Awarded five Silver Stars and cited "for gallantry in action near Missy au Bois, France, July 18-20, 1918. Captain Yuill repeatedly distinguished himself by his heroic action in organizing machine gun and rifle companies under the most trying circumstances and leading them in the attack against heavy fire from enemy guns. He was twice rendered unconscious from bursting shells, refused to be evacuated and led his units forward in the face of stubborn resistance"; "for gallantry in action near Berzy-le-Sec, France, July 21, 1918 and for his brilliant leadership"; "for gallantry in action near Exermont, France, Oct. 4, 1918. When the advance of the 2nd Battalion, 26th Infantry was held up by enemy machine gun fire, Captain Yuill gallantly advanced with one machine gun and silenced two opposing machine guns which permitted the advance of the battalion. Later in the same action, when isolated groups of enemy riflemen and machine gunners were holding up the advance of his battalion, Captain Yuill, under heavy enemy machine gun and artillery fire, with utter disregard of his safety, personally operated a machine gun that silenced the enemy machine gun nests, thereby enabling his battalion to continue the advance"; "for gallantry in action south of Hill 263, France, Oct. 9, 1918. After all the officers of the two rifle companies supporting his battalion had become casualties, Captain Yuill, under heavy enemy artillery fire and with utter disregard for his own safety reorganized those two companies and with the Machine Gun Company gallantly led them forward in the advance"; "for gallantry in action and devotion to duty during the operations of the Second Infantry Brigade in the Meuse Argonne Offensive, Nov. 5-8, 1918".

Authorized to wear the French Fourragere in the colors of the Croix de Guerre as an individual citation.

SOLDIERS' MEDAL.

For heroism on July 11, 1926, during the explosions at the Lake Denmark Naval Ammunition Depot, near Dover, N. J., Captain Holmes, one of a part of eight men, entered the burning area at 6:30 a. m. to search for First Lieutenant George W. Bott, Jr., United States Army, who was known to have been in the powder factory at the time of the first explosions late the preceding afternoon. Throughout the search they were in close proximity to burning magazines and exposed to frequent explosions of large-caliber shells and small-arms ammunition. While there was still possibility of more serious detonations and at the risk of their lives they located the body of Lieutenant Bott and with great difficulty succeeded in removing it from the wreckage to a point outside the danger zone.
